

Common day in the Math Support Centre

Annotation: Math Support Centre (MSC) at Technical University of Ostrava was opened in October 2016. The original idea came from similar centres in Great Britain and Norway. Our Math Support Centre became a favourite place for many students from five faculties of our university. During the last academic year almost 400 consultations took place in the MSC. In this paper, we present the types of problems our students encountered and classify the types of consultations. This data can be used in workshops for current and future tutors in the MSC.